Cop assaulted during escape attempt

A fugitive feared that Westland police dog Taz's bite might be worse than his bark. So the fugitive, who led several Westland police officers on a chase during the night of June 12, crawled out of bushes and surrendered after hearing Taz bark and growl at him.

The fugitive had in bushes in the backyard of a home on Cherry Hill after fleeing officers, who sought him as a suspect in a recent crime. (The crime was not identified.)

Earlier that evening a tipster told a pair of Westland officers who were patrolling the Venoy-Cherry Hill area that the fugitive was standing outside of the Blue Garden apartments on Cherry Hill with a group of people who were drinking.

The officers drove over to the apartment complex and spotted two men and a woman drinking beer by the side of Cherry Hill.

The officers identified themselves; the drinkers tossed their beer cans and ran inside the complex.

One of the officer chased them, following the suspects to an apartment on the top floor. As one of the men - not the crime suspect - tried to enter the apartment, the officer grabbed him, but the man was pulled out of the officer's grasp and into the apartment by someone inside.

For safety reasons, the officer waited for his partner before entering the apartment and arresting the suspect for public drinking, for resisting arrest, and for assaulting an officer.

Instead of cuffing the man, the officer held the man by the arm and walked him toward the squad car in the complex's parking lot. On the way, the officer told his prisoner to put his hands behind his back.

While the officer reached for his handcuffs, the man swung his body around and punched the officer's forearm. The blow caused the officer to let go of the man's arm.

The man fled, running through the parking lot, where a few more officers had arrived. Three officers chased and quickly caught him.

Then the officers searched for the original fugitive.

One officer spotted him laying on the ground near a parked car and ordered him to stay put, but the fugitive got up, hopped a five-foot fence into the backyard of a home on Cherry Hill and ran until he lost the pursuing officer.

A canine officer arrived with Taz and searched the area. The officer took Taz into a backyard on Hubbard street where an officer was yelling.

The canine officer yelled that he was about to set his police dog loose in the yard. He had Taz bark and growl and gave a second warning.

Not needing a third warning, the fugitive jumped out of the bushes and said, "OK, I give up. Just don't send the dog."

Weak stomach aside, Tucker's death-defying act fabulous

Flying isn't my bag. I disdain commercial airlines partly because flying typically makes me ill. The only time I was in the air in a two-seater, I had my head between my legs the whole time. Seeing Detroit by air was not going to happen that day. Walking away with a severe headache and nauseous stomach was.

Thus when I was approached to observe in the chase plane while Sean Tucker practiced his aerial stunts for the Michigan Air Show, I agreed with some trepidation. Would my weak stomach survive the ups and downs, twists and turns of the plane I was passenger in? Would my vision believe the unbelievable death-defying free falls that the lead plane was performing?

I was familiar with Sean Tucker. He stole the show in 1997, the last time the Air Show was in town. When others like the Blue Angels were unable to compete because of inclement weather, Tucker went up into the air and performed an astounding aerobatic act that is still talked about today. Last year, Tucker won the CASPA Challenge, crowning him the best performer in 1998.

Tucker, the Blue Angels, the Golden Knights and many others will be in town this weekend. The Air Show at Willow Run, in my opinion, is as good a show as the Grand Prix or Gold Cup powerboat races. For $15 you can see an entire day of exhibits and aerobatics. Unlike two years ago when rain and cold weather made the event only attractive to a few thousand hardy souls, this CASPA challenge which features six of the world's best aerobats in competition against each other will be enormously fun.

But back to my practice run. Sean was cordial, but business like. This practice was his first in the Detroit skies this year, and he wanted to make a good run, not necessarily to impress me, but to prepare for the competition this weekend. His performance, called "Sky Dance," incredibly imposes more G-force on his body than jet fighter pilots experience a chest hammering +10 to 7.5 G's.

Sean, however, can take it. He's young and in shape. His grueling workouts are routine. But me. I'm middle-aged with a weak stomach. As the prop plane proceeded down the Willow Run runway, all I could do was pray that I didn't embarrass myself and throw-up all over the cockpit and pilot.

Minutes later that feeling was gone. We were up above Western Wayne watching Sean Tucker maneuver his plane through a spectacular practice session. His sudden dives and 360 flips were magnificent from my camera lens. This guy was falling from the skies at a rate faster than the Ferrari can do 0 to 60. Just as you think he is going to crash and I might make a Fox worst crash video, the plane slowly glides upward and begins spinning. Not lazy spins. These spins are like a top, faster and faster until the plane reaches it's peak. Queasy stomach aside, this was a great way to watch an aerobatic performer.

But don't take my word for it. Pack up the family and come on out to Willow Run this weekend. Sean and the boys are ready to perform. It is a great family event you will not want to miss.

Summer carnivals provide a walk on the wild side

It's festival season. Behind us are Belleville's Strawberry Festival and Canton's Liberty Fest.

Next is the Westland Festival.

Unlike the Strawberry and Westland Festivals, the Liberty Fest is new.

I'm glad that it started. Festivals, or better yet carnivals, are necessary - even more important today when unusual entertainment is disappearing.

California planner Christopher Alexander has a small chapter about carnivals in his book, A Pattern Language, which attempts to provide plans and building blocks for a happy healthy community.

About carnivals, he says: "Just as an individual person dreams fantastic happenings to release the inner forces which cannot be encompassed by ordinary events, so too a city needs its dreams...."

"Man has a great need for mad subconscious processes to come into play, without unleashing them to such an extent that they become socially destructive. There is, in short, a need for socially sanctioned activities which are the social equivalent of dreaming."

This wasn't exactly how Canton Supervisor Tom Yack phrased it when he explained his creation of the Liberty Fest - Yack was just trying to create a pleasant summer event and to try to build a community - but it sure describes the Mardi

Ivan Helfman

Gras.

A former New Orleans student, many a time have I battled drunks, streetwalkers, and weirdoes to catch fistfuls of plastic beads in the French Quarter's beer-soaked streets while dancers cakewalked to Dixieland horns.

The Mardi Gras fits Alexander's description because all of the pageantry, the street theater, the mad games in the streets, the bars, and the Quarter's balcony apartments, the swimming pools filled with ice and beer cans, and the manic interplay between the costumed creatures on the floats and the people dancing and jumping in the streets. (This is the clean version.)

What's great about this is that it happens communally. Everybody shares their madness while it lasts. Then all go home healthier and happier because they've exhausted their year's load of crazy urges in a communal way.

The closest anybody came to duplicating the carnival atmosphere in MCN's readership area was at Canton and Salem High Schools on the seniors' last day of school. Until this year, seniors used to be allowed a short celebration, where they fought with water balloons and sprayed each other with shaving cream, together displacing all the urges they capped during their high school years. (I wonder where the urges will go now?)

With the senior celebration gone, we're left with a beer tent, rides, carney games, a parade, a beauty pageant, and the fireworks at the Strawberry and Westland Festivals.

In contrast, except for the fireworks, the Liberty Fest disdains all of the above. Instead it has family activities: an "All-American Picnic," a magic show, karaoke, a brass band, movies, a car show, and an arts and crafts show.

Nothing wild. Nothing to serve the purpose of a carnival.

While it's too early to tell if residents are suffering from the lack of a local carnival. Of course, residents can go to the Mardi Gras or a Stanley Cup celebration or tour for a weekend with Deadheads.

But we can see that the Liberty Fest is not drawing as many people as the Strawberry or Westland Festivals or any festival with Merry-Go-Rounds and Ferris Wheels.

Maybe it's time that the promoters of the Liberty Fest realize that the community needs a carnival and that more families enjoy carnival rides than so-called family activities.

WEEKLY SYNDICATED COLUMN by PERCY ROSS

Millionaire Percy Ross is known for his philanthropic work. He offers help and encouragement for those in need. He has earned a fortune and a wealth of knowledge during his lifetime and wants to share both. His motto: "He who gives while he lives... also knows where it goes."

The Gift of Finding a Moment of Joy Amidst the Pain

Dear Mr. Ross: It's only 3:30 a.m. as I write this letter, but I know that sleep has completely left me for tonight. Life has changed so drastically in the last 8 months, I wonder if the kids can take anymore. And yet, I know they will have to because today I start chemotherapy for uterine cancer. However, the cancer was preceded by my husband leaving, losing our home and having to give up our family pets. And now this. I don't know if I'm more inclined to have a pity-party or laugh hysterically.

I have 3 kids—good kids, ages 12, 14 and 17. They have been a source of comfort to me. My only hope is that none of them inherit their father's weakness of running out when things get tough. I hope you don't feel I'm setting you up for a big kill, but yes, I do have a request. I'm going to be off work receiving intense chemo. I've only been employed for 18 months with my current employer and I've used up all my vacation time which means I need to take a 4 week leave of absence. My folks can carry me on utilities and groceries, but my rent is $900 a month (3-bedroom apartments are extremely costly). How about a one time gift from you? You certainly could ease my burden and help keep my little family together.

Mrs. O. F. ... Transatlantic Weeklies, Winnipeg

Dear Mrs. F.: So many of life's challenges seem to carry a black cloud and cause a dampening of the human spirit. However, even within these periods are little victories and moments of happiness you otherwise would never experience. For example, making rent next month is a real issue, until you learn that my $900 should arrive any day. Now, there's a certain elation. Enjoy the moment for what it is. Best wishes.

Dear Mr. Ross: The reason I'm writing you is because my husband and I have been trying for the past 3 years to have a child. We have tried several different infertility treatments. Nothing worked so last

Tobacco money to benefit community foundations

To the Editor:

My fellow House Republicans and I recently announced the plan for fully utilizing tobacco settlement funds, in addition to the Michigan Merit Scholarship program.

Earnings generated from $105 million placed in an endowed fund from the tobacco settlement will go toward the Council of Michigan Foundations to support community efforts by school, public health and nonprofit organizations to prevent and treat youth smoking.

As emeritus director for the Canton Community Foundation, I supported the plan to put earnings from the tobacco settlement toward a permanent endowment established by the Council of Michigan Foundations. This will generate millions for health-related and tobacco prevention projects throughout Michigan.

The council is a statewide organization of philanthropy representing more than 534 private, family, community and corporate foundations and giving programs. More than 1,500 high school students each year help take part in grant-awarding as members of youth advisory committees. In 1999, they will award more than $2 million for projects dealing with teen smoking, alcohol and substance abuse.

House Bill 4666 earmarks a substantial portion of the settlement for the Merit Scholarship program, which awards qualifying students money for college tuition. Medical studies have clearly demonstrated that college-educated individuals are much less likely to engage in cigarette smoking.

The balance of the tobacco settlement is targeted for expansion of the senior prescription drug program, long-term care initiatives and several other items to improve health of Michigan families, especially seniors and children.

By diversifying the expenditures of revenues from the tobacco settlement to projects like senior health care and prevention initiatives for students, all Michigan residents benefit from this settlement. This plan offers an innovative and thoughtful way to return tobacco settlement funds to Michigan residents by investing in our youth and senior populations of today and the future."

All Michigan residents should also be aware of the Health Michigan Fund. The fund spends nearly $40 million a year on tobacco prevention and health-related efforts and is unique to the state of Michigan.

Because the Healthy Michigan Fund exists, we have greater latitude to do more creative things like those set forth above.

Sincerely,
Rep. Bruce Patterson

To the Editor:

Attention: Will the driver of the silver/pewter colored car, possibly a Cadillac, who stopped near the corner of Riggs and Haggerty Roads on June 10, 1999, at approximately 2 p.m., and picked up my green Poulan chainsaw after it bounced out of the back of my truck after I backed out of my driveway please call (734) 699-7968 after 5 p.m. to make arrangements to return it to its rightful owner. Thank you.

No sweat, nature will be just fine

To the editor:

NO SWEAT ... NATURE'LL BE JUST FINE

You'll wonder where, The birds went; When you brush off, The environment.

It's not that anyone is actually against the environment. It's just that it sometimes gets in the way. That's true for big corporations, small businesses, armies, or us plain folks. Each group has its own method of putting Mother Nature down.

Corporations use a very direct approach. They buy influence. Whether they're polluting land, sea, or air, they cozy up to legislators and bureaucrats to keep government off their backs. Small businesses, for their part, count on their modest individual violations and their vast numbers to overwhelm understaffed enforcers. Armies prefer the simple expedient of classifying pollution as "Secret." We citizens, in turn, threaten to vote out of office any politician who mucks around too much with our conveniences.

Thus, despite some major victories for nature, our surroundings continue to degrade. Many polluters are quick to point out America's dramatic improvements in clean air, clean water, the ozone layer, and some endangered species. Their noble successes seem almost to grant a free pass, in some eyes, to keep polluting in less visible ways.

As a result, global dangers are growing, not shrinking. A swelling world population means there are more of us causing damage by simply living our daily lives. And as populations grow richer, we each possess a greater capacity to lay waste.

Being richest of all, the United States is the swiftest to soil itself and others. Some of our better known current excesses include overfishing, overgrazing, overlogging, and overdraining water from Western aquifers. We're also busy poisoning the land and water-courses with hard-rock mines, nuclear wastes, military leftovers, hog manure, PCBs, and oil spills. The more there are of us, the more there are of these.

Such degradations are nothing new, of course, to environmental agencies. They would love to crack down and clean up. Legislatures, though, in the thrall of generous industry, limit those regulatory powers. Constricting enforcement budgets is the most common tool, but Congress, especially, uses many other tricks as well. Riders on appropriations bills are always popular. They often exempt certain noxious industries or practices from existing laws. They sometimes postpone enforcement dates for another decade. Or they specifically authorize some damaging project to proceed without environmental review.

The most recent vehicle for such riders was the emergency appropriation for the war in Kosovo. It looked like Santa's sleigh. Occasionally the press will take a fleeting interest in one of these ecological atrocities. But even the most earnest reporter will not be given much time to follow up. Meanwhile corporate lobbyists and donors are busy day and night, plying your congressman and mine. Unlike the press, corporate interests are never distracted by impeachments, wars, murders, tragedies or celebrities. And though our personal gaze may wander, theirs stays fixed. Thus forests continue to dwindle and asthma continues to spread.

Of course we do pay close attention when our own convenience is threatened. A hike in fuel prices brings clamor, and controls on Sport Utility Vehicles (SUVs) bring protest. That's another corporate success story. Through relentless marketing, they have convinced us of these now-basic human automotive necessities. Indeed we've got to give them credit. While we all remain environmentalists in theory, they've persuaded us to turn a blind eye to the environment in practice.

Sincerely,
William A. Collins

Christian youth invited to rally

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

Christian youth from the western Wayne County area are invited to a free July 3 rally at which two area law enforcement officers will offer their religious testimonies.

Youth pastor Tim Fowler of the Full Gospel Church of Plymouth said youth (ages 13 and up) from all denominations and even those with little or no church background are invited to the religious gathering (from 5 to 10 p.m. that day) at the church's new property at 33200 Ecorse Road in Romulus.

Contemporary music will be offered by local youth members and two visiting police officers: Art Fisher from Livonia and Steve Wallen of Washenaw County will offer their testimonies.

The church began decades ago in Belleville and currently is located in Plymouth. It has plans now to create a new enlarged church facility - with later soccer and softball fields being added - at the Ecorse Road site.

Christian concert set tomorrow night

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

A contemporary Christian music concert provided by the Cokesbury United Methodist Church choir of Knoxville, Tenn. will be offered at 7 o'clock tomorrow night at the Belleville First United Methodist Church.

The church is located at 417 Charles St. in Belleville.

The theme of the concert is "Intensive Christian Uprising."

There is no admission charge.

A free premiere worldwide showing of the movie Judgement: The Trial of Commander Kellie will be offered at 7 p.m. July 17 at the Gateway Assembly of God Church at 36572 Goddard Road in Romulus.

Judgement features a futuristic team, whose mission is to boldly spread the gospel while stopping the efforts of their arch enemy, NME (Notoriously Malicious Enterprises).

The movie is based on Revelation 12:11 They overcame him (the enemy) by the blood of the lamb and by the word of their testimony.

It depicts scenes when the Superkids race to save Commander Kellie, who is captured, falsely charged and faces a corrupt grand jury, that is anxious to pronounce a death sentence.

"Our kids need to know about the blood of Jesus. In the movie, we show that the blood of Jesus delivers and what it delivers us from," said Kellie Copeland - who stars as Commander Kellie.

The full length movie is suitable for children seven years and older and is the fourth in a series. The others were: The Intruder, Armor of Light and the SWORD.

Pastor James O'Guin said while admission is free, seating is limited. Thus he urges youth and their parents to arrive early.

Promise Keepers gather tomorrow

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

Thousands of Michigan Promise Keepers will meet tomorrow and Saturday to "Choose This Day to Serve the Lord" by spending hours at Joe Louis Arena in Detroit.

The Christian Men's Group founded by former college football coach John McCartney will open its door at 6:30 p.m. Friday at the Detroit sports arena for the first time in its history.

In previous years, Promise Keepers have conducted their men's conferences at the Silverdome in Pontiac.

But McCartney has vowed he won't consider PK a success until at least 25 percent of the men in the conferences are "men of color."

Thus the conferences are being moved into the inner cities and the costs have been cut to a minimal rate.

The best known of this year's speakers will be Franklin Graham - son of evangelist Billy Graham.

Other Christian speakers will be John Maxwell, Joseph Garlington, Crawford Loritts and Ed Cole with musical guest, Donnie McClurkin.

Some of the key topics will include: Being a Godly Family in an Ungodly World, The Disciplines of a Man Who Chooses Christ, Understanding the Times, Becoming the Spiritual Leader of Your Home and Becoming a Champion for Unity.

PK organizers are urging Christians to attend the two day free conference and to bring a friend.

The entrance cost is free...but attendees need to cut to a minimal rate.

Well nomination forms to potentially honor such a person are now at the Wayne Public Library, Wayne City Hall, Wayne Community Center and the Senior Activity Center.

The award is known as the "Diamond of the Community Award."

After filling out one of those forms to nominate such a person ... place it in an envelope and mail it to the Commission on Aging, Senior Activity Center, 35000 Sims Ave. in Wayne, MI. 48184. Deadline is July 9. For more information call 721-7460.

The winner will be awarded a plaque, $75 in "mad money" and dinner with the Commission on Aging and other city officials.

This year's award sponsor is the Wayne Westland Federal Credit Union.

Past award winners have been Claude Berard, Hazel Payne, Robert Boyles and Hazel Neel.

Past sponsors have been Wayne NBD Bank, Time-Warner Cable, Wayne American Legion Unit III and Jack Demmer Ford.

Area residents -- an in particular senior citizens -- are being warned not to make yourself a target of car thieves this summer.

HEAT (Help Eliminate Auto Thefts) officials and Michigan State Attorney General Jennifer Granholm of Dearborn offer the following tips:

- Use anti-auto theft safety devices such as door locks, alarms, steering column collars and window etchings. Layer these protection devices whenever possible.

- Never leave your running vehicle unattended.

- Don't leave valuables, such as cellular phones and planners, on the car seat. Store them out of view.

- If parking for a long period of time, don't leave windows rolled down.

The HEAT program also seeks help from the public on auto theft related information including insurance fraud.

Thanks to the public's help, HEAT has awarded more than $2 million in tips to callers and arrested more than 2,207 suspects and recovered more than $30 million in vehicles.

Tipsters can earn up to $1,000 for tips that lead to arrests and prosecution of car thieves.

Schools of Choice rejected despite potential payoff

By IVAN HELFMAN
MCN Staff Writer

Despite losing $960,000 when student enrollment dropped 160 pupils, the Wayne-Westland district will not reenter the state's Schools of Choice program.

The Schools of Choice program opens the district's schools' doors to students living outside the district. Under the program, an out-of-district's funding follows the students. The district gains $6,000 for each student.

Two years ago, when the district opened its doors, it gained students for the first time in about a decade.

But at the urging of Superintendent Greg Baracy, the Board of Education recently voted to only allow out-of-district students in community education classes.

"Schools of choice are not worth it," said Board President Dave Cox. "The financial gain of the extra state aid doesn't take into consideration the costs."

Cox added that switching schools also hurts the students.

"Education can't happen as well when you're pulling kids out of school all the time," he said.

Nevertheless, the next-door Plymouth-Canton district has pledged to open its doors to Wayne-Westland students if necessary to fill the proposed Plymouth-Canton high school and pay for its operation. (Unlike Cox, Plymouth-Canton board members have concluded that importing students pays well.)

The high school is on the drawing boards and due to be built soon. Plymouth-Canton, with its good reputation, could potentially drain several students from Wayne-Westland.

Partly as a result, the district's financial projections have declined this year. Last year's $14.2 million budget surplus is expected to dwindle $5.6 million next June, according to district forecasts released last week.

No economy measures are contemplated at this time, a contrast to the past, when falling revenues led to the elimination of middle school sports and secondary school bus routes.

Photo Bug

Belleville High School eleventh-grader Jonathan Carnahan, with mother Therese Thomas, displays his photograph of the Statue of Liberty. He took the photo on an impulse during a visit to New York City, and when the Wayne County RESA announced a photo contest, he submitted his picture. He won second-place honors and a $50 U.S. Savings bond.

Lincoln-Jefferson clinic helps families in need

Samantha Willoughby, a first grade student at Lincoln Elementary School, thinks the school-based health care clinic is really great. So does her mom, Cathy Willoughby. This family is not alone. Since February 1998, Oakwood has been serving the children and families of Jefferson-Barns and Lincoln Schools in Westland with the establishment of the Lincoln School Healthcare Clinic is becoming a true Oakwood success story with great potential to provide comprehensive healthcare to children and families who are in need. "I am one of the lucky ones," says Cathy Willoughby, "I have Medicaid, but most people around here don't have it, and don't have insurance, and they really need the health services for their families."

Lincoln Elementary School is located in a neighborhood where many residents live below the poverty level, have literacy problems, have no transportation and experience fear and discomfort with doctors. Oakwood family nurse practitioner Sue Szurek and Scott Yaeke, M.D. currently provide services such as: physical examinations; sports/camp physicals; vision and hearing screenings; basic lab services; counseling and referral services; and individual, family and community health promotion and education. The goal of the Lincoln School Healthcare Clinic is three-fold: to improve student and family health, to increase student and family health knowledge, to increase awareness of students' health care needs.

All services at the clinic are confidential and fees are based on income. No one is turned away due to inability to pay. Parental consent is required except in cases of emergency care and crisis intervention. As an indication of the parents' need and desire for children's healthcare services in this community, 95% of parental consent forms for all of the elementary school students were signed and returned.

The clinic is truly making a difference in the lives of many community members. Seven year old Samantha has had ear infections and repeated asthma attacks while at school, and it is so comforting to her and to her family to be able to just walk down the hall to see "Nurse Sue." Cathy Willoughby cannot compliment the clinic enough. "They are so good here. They detected asthma in me too." Samantha's attacks have become less frequent, she is healthier overall and she rarely misses school now.

Lincoln School Healthcare Clinic is one of only seven or eight elementary school-based clinics in Michigan. Funding comes entirely from philanthropic support through the Oakwood Foundation. The Western Wayne Regional Council has been an instrumental part of this support. Our hope, of course, is to do more. Summer hours, a dental hygienist, a literacy program and routine pap screenings for moms are only a few of the many services which additional support could provide.

Sue Szurke remarks, "As we see a lot more chronic patients and have established trust from the community, we are experiencing a greater number of requests for our services." She also comments on the importance of caring for the whole family. "A well child needs to go home to a well family. Health issues within the entire family, such as substance abuse, child and parental abuse, illiteracy and illness must also be addressed."

A wise person once said, "Our children are our future." If we work together, that future can be bright and healthy.

Gordie Howe cruises Wayne Road

By DON NICHOLSON
MCN Special Writer

The summer is definitely in full swing. If you couldn't find something to do with Hot Rods this past week, you must have stayed at home.

Tuesday night the Fire Academy Brewery and Grill on Wayne road in Westland has their cruise night in full swing. Hot rods and a couple hot fire trucks lined the whole parking lot spilling out to the mall lot. Some of the nicest cars in the area where there for all to see. Even Gordie Howe stopped by for some of the good food and fun.

Saturday was some great racing starting off the show with a 150 mph run from the Paddy Wagon Vega wowing the fans while driving on the back two wheels. This car is specially made to run on the back wheels.

The driver steers with two hand controls applying brakes to the back wheels separately to keep the car straight down the track, and then pulling the parachute handle to bring the car back down on four wheels.

Not to be outdone here come the wild outlaw pro-modified cars. Local driver Jimmy Detrick with his Varsity Ford sponsored Ford Probe was definitely on some great runs with the wheels high. I sometimes wonder if Jimmy ever learned to drive with all four tires on the ground.

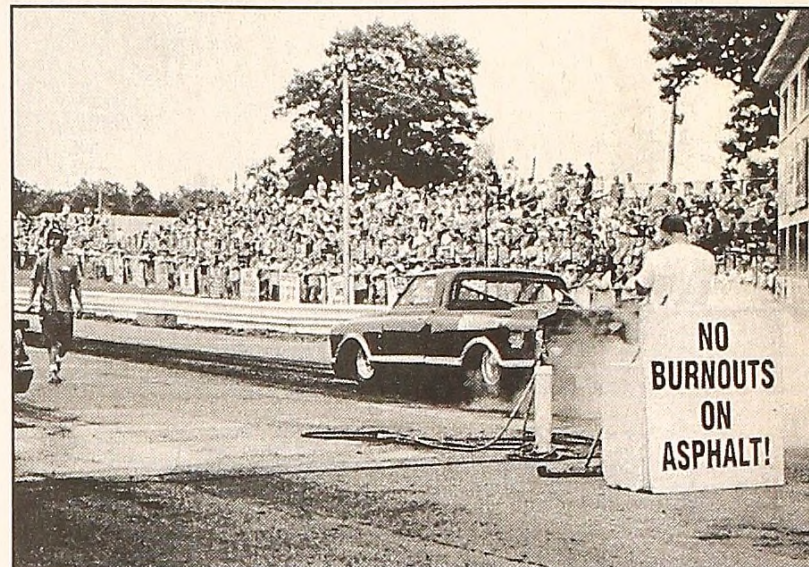

This class of drag car is one of the most exciting to watch and the Milan promoted show definitely did its share of proving anything can happen. With 200+ mph runs, these guys lived up to their reputation.

Two top fuel professionals Larry Dixon and the Lady of Drag Racing, Shirley Muldowney, came out to give the fans the smell of nitro in the air and the thunder only a top fuel car can make. Larry Dixon now driving the Don Prudhomme owned car has been doing some great changes in the NHRA circuit. Larry is now the number four driver in the country. With Don Prudhomme behind him I am sure that he will be a great contender for the number one spot.

Then comes the Thunder and the Fire of the father and son team of the Al Hannahs in the side-by-side 280 mph jet funny car show. With the loud thunder noise and the smoke and flames of these cars and this was only a small taste of the upcoming 'Jets of Fire' show Aug. 14.

Then Fathers day my son Eddie and I went to one of the most picturesque settings around for a car show. The 8th Annual Canton Liberty Fest car show.

This show featured some of the area's nicest hot rods and cruise cars around. Also a model car contest for some of the younger and not so young crowd. All proceeds going to the St. Vincent Mercy Hospital Burn Center.

Upcoming shows are The Henry Ford Community college show June 26th and 27th, for more info call 248-476-7487 or e-mail ettinger@provide.net.

The Westland Festival show coming fourth of July weekend is sure to be another great one, contact Quality movers for more information.

And to finish off a great weekend I got a phone call from Del Worsham's (Top Fuel Funny car driver) Grandmother. She will be talking to Del about sending something for the Burger Car Show Auction. Gee, aren't grandmothers great.

The Burger car show is getting closer and closer, July 12th is just around the corner. For more info on the show and entry blanks, call me at 734-721-5570 or e-mail me at Burger_car_show@hotmail.com

If you have any information on upcoming shows, races, racers or cruise people, please call me at 734-721-5570 or e-mail me at PrismPhoto@aol.com.

Woodlands to host city championship Summer amateur golf classic is scheduled for Aug. 7-8

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

Mark Morton has had a lock on the annual City Championship Golf Tournament championships in recent years.

Morton, a product of the Wayne-Westland schools who has played in the tournament for more than a score of years, walked off with medalist honors a year ago, and that was his third consecutive win.

He has also won the Patrolman Leonard J. Anderson Memorial Trophy for more years than one can recount. That trophy is presented by the Wayne Police Department in memory and to the life of Officer Anderson, the only Wayne officer to be slain in the line of duty in the city of Wayne.

Morton, whose father is a retired Wayne Police Chief, learned to play golf before his teen years and rose to prominence over the years in the summer tournament. He has developed into an outstanding amateur golfer.

Morton definitely will be the one to beat in the tournament scheduled to be staged Aug. 7-8 at Woodlands Golf Course.

"This tournament is a summer classic. It has been staged for almost four decades," said Jeff Rutter, a Wayne Parks and Recreation supervisor who, along with Gary Clark and Morton, will serve on the tournament committee. "We have always had an excellent turnout of local and area golfers." The tournament is open to local and area amateur golfers, men and women, who will play a total of 36 holes over the two-day period. Flights will be set up for golfers from the cities of Wayne, Westland, Canton, Romulus and Inkster.

First and second flights also will be established if the number of entries warrant adding the flights.

In recent years, the numbers of golfers have increased in Wayne and Westland, but inexplicably decreased from the cities of Inkster and Romulus.

"As in the past we will also offer Open and Senior Flights," Rutter added.

Trophies will be awarded to those finishing first, second or third in each of the flights. A trophy also will be presented to the medalist (low scorer) for the tournament.

The Anderson Memorial trophy will go to the winner of the Wayne Championship Flight.

There is a $70 entry fee which covers the two-day golfing fees and the cost of trophies.

To enter, competitors should send their name, address, telephone number and entry fee, made out to the City of Wayne to: Wayne Parks & Recreation Department, 4635 Howe Road, Wayne, Mich.

For further information, please contact Jeff Rutter at 734/721-7400 or MCN staff writer Tom Mooradian at 734/729-4000.

Canton Softball Center is open

The impressive Canton Township Softball Complex opened to the cheers of baseball and softball fans in the area.

Fans of all ages came out last weekend to celebrate the grand opening of the center, located on Michigan Avenue, west of Canton Center Road, in Canton Township.

Newly-owned and operated by Canton Township, the grand-opening dedication program was called "A Night at the Ball Park", and with the ump's first cry to "Play Ball" the crowds went wild.

But there was more than baseball and softball on the evening's program for those who took part in this historic event.

For the kids of all ages, there were games, food, fun, a moonwalk and a dunk tank.

Dan Durack, Canton's director of Administrative and Community Services, had the honor of tossing out the first pitch. And that "perfect strike" was followed by Canton Community Junior Baseball and Softball Association games.

There were balloons and baseball caps that went into orbit with the first pitch.

"We're very excited and proud to have the Softball Center here in Canton," said Tom Yack, Canton Township supervisor. "We're looking forward to our first official season."

Diamond's Bar and Grill co-sponsored the grand opening event. Diamonds' is a great place to enjoy not only baseball, but any sporting event. They have a large array of televisions throughout the restaurant, making it possible to view events wherever you have happen to be seated.

Canton Center also offers a variety of food items including salads, BBQ ribs, pizzas and appetizers.

For more information about the Canton Softball Center and upcoming events, please call 483-5600.

Who will stop Morton?

Displaying some of the hardware he won in last year's tourney, Mark Morton (pictured above) has dominated the annual City Championship Golf Tournament in recent years. The former Wayne resident who is presently residing in Westland has had a monopoly on the summer classic title as well as the Len Anderson Memorial Trophy, a trophy awarded the medalist of the Wayne Championship flight. Morton will be back to defend his title when the golfers gather for the summer classic scheduled for Aug. 7-8 at the Woodlands.

2 Toledo teams may battle for Anderson title

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

Two nationally-ranked Toledo teams may be among the 16 teams that plan to invade the city of Wayne next month in hopes of coming out of the softball slugfest with the coveted Leonard J. Anderson Memorial Tournament championship trophy.

The tournament will be conducted July 16-17-18 on the softball diamonds located at the field named for Anderson, a police officer who was slain in the line of duty in Wayne.

"With the caliber of teams in this year's tournament, it would appear that this may be one of the strongest fields in the history of this tournament," said Larry Quartuccio, tournament director.

There are four Westland, two Wayne and one Canton Township team entered in the 1999 classic.

Westland will be represented by Journeyman/Varsity/Ques/Easton, which is currently ranked No. 1 nationally the USSSA Class A polls. The team has won three consecutive tournament titles, and it is managed by Quartuccio.

Westland also has Metro Glass, a winner of two National Invitational Tournaments (NIT) titles in Class C. Metro Glass finished third in last year's Anderson tournament.

Westland's Dependable Transportation, and Les Stanford/Little Bills, one of the up-and-coming young teams in the area, are also seeking the title.

Temple Baptist/Benitos as well as Wayne Stamping/Wayne Brewery will be playing under the banner of the city of Wayne, while Canton Township's Calvert, winner of the last two Anderson tournament, is that township's lone entry. Calvert was known as Prestige last year.

Other teams that have entered in the 1999 classic include: Maroadi Theater, a Pittsburgh team that is ranked in the top 10 with USSSA, Class A; Plumbers and Pipe Fitters, out of Lansing. The Pipefitters have been a contender for the last eight years, and always wind up near the top.

Redford Township will have the Timberwolf, while Zada, a team out of Dearborn Heights, is a team ranked in the top five in the USSSA Class B polls.

Garden City's Hilliard Lyons/Marsh Power Tool/Bennys Pizza is the winner of this year's Master NIT tournament title. The tournament was staged last week in Sterling Heights.

Three other notables also will be in the field. The trio are Justice Reigus, out of New Boston; Nagle Softball Club, from Pickney; and Larson Maintenance, from Taylor.

There is a Home Run Derby that will be staged at 4 p.m. on July 17. Sluggers are invited to enter the derby, even if they are not in the tournament.

The Anderson Softball Tournament is sponsored by the Journeyman Softball Club and the City of Wayne Parks and Recreation Department.

Girls prep league sets All-Stars date for softball game

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

The Canton Community Junior Baseball and Softball Association is thinking All-Stars. And also All-Star games.

With players swinging their bats at full blast, officials are looking for the best to shore up their lineups for the annual All-Star Game. The first of a series of match-ups between the best in the divisions will occur at 10 a.m. on June 26 at Heritage Park Field when the CCJBA will stage its annual girls All-Star Softball game.

According to team officials, players will be nominated to participate in the game by team managers.

In the meantime, CCJBA officials noted that the teams who surface with divisional titles also will be invited to compete in the World Series to determine the overall championships. The World Series will be played on July 8 and July 13 and, if necessary, on July 15. All of the games will be played at 6:30 p.m. on Diamond No. 1.

In CCJBA action last week, the Eastern Division found itself in a tight race as the Phillies and Blue Jays are deadlocked in first place. Each has 8-2 records, but neither the next two teams in the standings, White Sox or the Marlins, can be counted out of the title race.

The White Sox has won seven of their nine games, while the Marlins remain in the hunt with a 7-3 record.

Over in the Western Division, it's a one-team race as the Diamondbacks have pulled away from the field. The Western Division leader has a 7-2 record and is looking down at their opponents who are four games out: The Devil Rays, Cardinals and Athletics each has posted 3-7 won-lost marks.

According to team officials, players will be nominated to participate in the game by team managers.

Behind the outstanding fielding and hitting of Sarah Anthony, the White Sox turned back the Braves 15-4. Anthony drilled a run-scoring double and also stood out at first base.

The Phillies received a strong pitching effort from Alyssa Johnson who also collected three hits in three appearances at the plate in their close 10-9 victory over the Athletics.

Jessica Stankewitz also chipped in three hits in three at-bats for the Phillies who withstood a five-run, fifth inning rally by the Athletics.

Danielle Lukko hammered a grand slam homer that lifted the Marlins to a lopsided 19-3 victory over the Braves and teammate Hannah Cavichio executed a double play that erased a Braves' scoring threat.

In other games, the Blue Jays ripped the Tigers 10-2, while the Diamondbacks managed to come out a 2-1 winner over the Marlins.

3 teams needed for Romulus tourney

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

With five area teams entered, the 9th Annual Stars & Stripes Softball Tournament still is in need of three more teams to come off of the drawing board and on to the playing field, according to Romulus Parks and Recreation supervisor Keith Brothers.

The tournament is sponsored by the recreation department, and the deadline to enter is July 1.

"We have had good response from area team managers," said Brothers. "In fact, five teams from the area have registered to play in our tournament."

"Unfortunately, we haven't had any response from any local teams, which is a big surprise," added Brothers, who didn't have an explanation for the poor response only that he believed that some managers "seem to wait until the last minute."

"And if they wait too long, they will be left out."

The games will be staged July 4th on diamonds located at the Elmer Johnson Park. There is a registration fee of $125. The first eight teams will be accepted.

Trophies will be awarded to the winning and runner-up team sponsors, according to Brothers. The members of the championship and second-place team will be presented with red-white-and-blue t-shirts in step with the 4th of July holiday.

Team representatives or managers who need further information are urged to contact Brothers at 734/942-6852. If Brothers is not available, either Mike Dembici at 248/542-2189 or Ken Rudolph at 810/778-5359 will assist you.

Elmer Johnson Park is located at Wick and Ozga Road.

Delayed baseball action

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

Due to the unavailability of two of the local high school baseball coaches who apparently took off as soon as the baseball season ended, the All-Area panel has been unable to finalize the Michigan Community Newspapers 39th annual All-Area Team.

The team, picked by the MCN sports staff in cooperation with the local coaches, will be published as soon as the coaches provide the staff with candidates' names and stats.

The team is composed of players from the following schools: Belleville, Romulus, Wayne Memorial, Westland John Glenn, Plymouth-Canton, Plymouth-Salem, Dearborn Heights Robichaud and Inkster.

The MCN staff traditionally picks a Coach of the Year.

The delay will afford an opportunity for local fans who have potential candidates for the 1999 lineup to call in their favorite player's names.

All inquiries and information should be conveyed to MCN staff writer Tom Mooradian who may be reached at 734/729-4000.

The high school baseball season may be history, but the 1999 MCN All-Area Team isn't. The MCN staff is attempting to finalize the lineup that will include the top players from local teams who distinguished themselves on the ball field this season.

Alisha Rae Haselhuhn, daughter of Pastor Ray and Vola Haselhuhn of Canton, has been named a U.S. National Award Winner in the field of English.

She was nominated by Miss Debbie Beck, her teacher at Calvary Christian Academy, and will appear in the U.S. Achievement Academy Official Yearbook.

The criteria for selection are the student's academic performance, interest, and aptitude, leadership qualities, responsibility, enthusiasm, motivation to learn and improve, citizenship, attitude and cooperative spirit.

"Recognizing and supporting our youth is more important than ever before in America's history. Certainly USAA winners should be congratulated and appreciated for their dedication to excellence and achievement," Dr. George Stevens, executive director of the USAA.

Her father is pastor of the First Baptist Church of Canton.

Her grandparents include: Everett and Hazel Ford of Bay City and Betty Haselhuhn of Freeland.

Julie P. White, daughter of James F. and Patricia A. White of Westland, has graduated summa cum laude from Albion College, receiving a bachelor of arts degree in biology.

The honor of summa cum laude is given to students, who maintain a grade point average of 3.8 or more out of a possible 4.0.

White also was named to Phi Beta Kappa, the nation's oldest honorary scholastic society and was named to the dean's list for the spring semester.

She also is a graduate of Churchill High School.

Scott A. Smith, son of Conley E. and Paula L. Smith of Romulus, has been named to the spring 1999 semester's dean list at Albion College.

Smith is a senior and a graduate of Romulus High School.

Rebekah A. Schultz, daughter of Robert J. and Joyce A. Schultz of Belleville, has been named to the spring 1999 dean's list at Albion College.

Schultz is a junior majoring in biology. She is a graduate of Hemlock High School.

Joy Diete-Spiff of Wayne has been selected to receive the Diversity Scholarships at Miami University for the coming year.

This year 2,000 students at MU will receive scholarship assistance totaling over $6 million.

2 Romulus students attending Legion Boys, Girls State programs

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

Two Romulus High School students, Steven Andrew Mientkiewicz and Erin Rachael Conway are now attending the American Legion and Auxiliary Boys and Girls State programs on the Michigan State University's campus.

Mientkiewicz, son of Kenneth and Bonnie Mientkiewicz, was sponsored by the Romulus Kiwanis Club.

He is among 750 boys representing the very best in Michigan at the 62nd annual Boys State program, who are learning how politics and city, county and state governments function.

"Nothing is more important to the future and security of our American system of government than the attitudes of our young people in today's high schools," Romulus High School counselor John Domas, revealed last week.

The $215 scholarship to Boys State covers the cost of the programming, food and housing at MSU.

Mientkiewicz, who plans to later attend a Michigan college, is currently carrying a 3.953 grade point average.

He plans to become a secondary school history teacher or pursue a career in the field of photography/videos.

When he returns to school this fall, he will share his Boys State experiences with his classmates.

At the same time, Conway was among 504 girls attending the 59th annual American Legion Girls State program also at the MSU campus.

Steven Mientkiewicz

Erin Conway

Conway is the daughter of James and Lynn Conway and also was sponsored by the Romulus Kiwanis Club (a $240 scholarship).

Upon graduation, Conway plans to enter the University of Michigan and pursue a career in engineering. She currently is carrying a 4.0 grade point average.

The 1999 Girls State program is designed as a practical experience in the problems of self-government as they relate to the state of Michigan.

The purpose of the program is to emphasize the importance of government in modern life; to stimulate a deep and lasting interest in government and to enlarge the students' understanding of the governmental process.

Upon arrival each girl is assigned to a mythical political party, county and city including seven counties and three cities.

They are members of the political process including being members of the press, lobby groups, etc. This is a government simulation program, not a summer sports camp, Domas stressed.

Next fall Conway also will be asked to give a report on her Girls' State experiences to her peers at Romulus High.

Prominent individuals, who have taken part in such programs in the past include: former Texas Gov. Ann Richards; news commentator Jane Pauley, Miss America 1998 Kate Shindle and 1998 Gold Medalist on the U.S. Hockey team Karen Bye.

Domas thanked the many top Romulus High administration leaders and academic teachers and counselors for their help in this program.

Also thanked was David Ferdon, a representative of the Kiwanis Club (program sponsors).

Austin Powers sequel will make you laugh

This summer a long awaited sequel has been shown. It has great special effects, really cool actors, and a script to die for. Of course I am talking about the long awaited sequel to Austin Powers: International Man of Mystery. Now Austin is worried about another spy.

In New Line Cinemas recent release Austin Powers: The Spy Who Shagged Me Mike Myers revisits the role nobody thought would make it, Austin Powers.

In the latest adventure Austin Powers is on his honeymoon with Vanessa Kensington, played again by Elizabeth Hurley, when something gets all fouled up. He is called on a mission of great importance. He must stop Dr. Evil and his evil crew from taking over the world again.

This time however Dr. Evil not only wants to take over, the evil doctor wants to destroy Austin with what helps him, his libido.

The Dr. has invented a time machine to travel back to a couple of years after Austin Powers was frozen. He has one of his evil henchmen take an injection out of his frozen life form containing his libido.

The British Intelligence Agency invents their own time traveling machine that is out of this world. I would live to find one of these things out on the street. Austin then flies through time to chase Dr. Evil and retrieve his libido.

MINUTE MOVIE REVIEWS

NOW SHOWING IN THEATERS:

Buena Vista Club stars legendary performers Ry & Joaquim Cooder, Ibrahim Ferrer, Ruben Gonzales, and many other Cuban Musicians. A Documentary inspired by the album. Unrated.

The General's Daughter stars John Travolta, Madeline Stowe, James Cromwell, and Timothy Hutton. Ambition destructive passion, and load suppressed secrets lead to a murder on a U.S. Army post. Rated R.

Tarzan stars the voices of Tony Goldwyn, Glenn Close, and Rosie O'Donnell. Disney's animated version of the classic story about a man raised by apes. Rated G.

Austin Powers: The Spy Who Shagged Me stars Mike Meyers, Heather Graham and Robert Wagner. Dr. Evil invent a time machine that he intends to use to travel back in time to the 60's where he can steal Austin Powers's mojo.

Instinct stars Sir Anthony Hopkins and Cuba Gooding Jr. An anthropologist studying gorillas unexpectedly attacks some rangers and winds up in a psychiatric institute where he changes the life of a young psychiatrist. Rated R.

Notting Hill stars Julia Roberts and Hugh Grant. Business booms for a single business owner in England after the most popular actress in the world walks into the bookstore and offers him a kiss.

[I]Star Wars Episode I: The Phantom Menace stars Liam Neeson, Ewan MacGregor, and Natalie Portman. Young Anakin Skywalker begins his fall to the Dark Side in this first of three prequels films to the popular Star Wars Trilogy.

The Thirteenth Floor stars Gretchen Mol and Vincent D'Onofrio. After the murder of a business tycoon, his assistant ventures onto the 13th floor where the two had set up a virtual world set in 1937 Los Angeles.

The Love Letter stars Kate Capshaw, Blythe Danner, Ellen Degeneres, Tom Selleck, and Tom Everett Scott. A comedy about a sleepy New England town and how one mysterious love note has the power to unlock some startling secrets. Rated R.

Tea With Mussolini stars Cher, Judi Dench, Joan Plowright, Maggie Smith, and Lily Tomlin. A coming of age tale of a young man who is taken under the wing of five eccentric women who plan to make him into a perfect British gentleman. Rated R.

The evil one has a group of men waiting to take care of Powers after he flies back to the 60's. There is a midget look a like of Dr. Evil called Mini-Me, a fat disgusting slob of a man, and of course there are the regulars from the last movie.

Now Powers is not alone. He has by his side a groovy hippy chick, played by Heather Graham, Felicity Shagwell. Who turns out to be major fan of Austin's and also a CPA agent. They run around chasing Dr. Evil and end up traveling through space to try to thwart his itinerary.

This was a great movie. I laughed so loud I was almost thrown out of the movie theater. I couldn't stop laughing at all the characters that Myers played. He had three roles that were unforgettable.

One character that was the most unforgettable was Mini-Me, played by Verne Troyer. His comic timing was incredible. If you have ever seen the first Austin Powers you know about the quotation fingers. Troyer had perfect timing when he copied Dr. Evil during conversations.

There were a slew of cameo appearances in this movie. Tim Robbins had a bit part playing the President of the United States that was pretty funny. The other cameos included Willie Nelson, Burt Bacharach, Elvis Costello, Jerry Springer, Woody Harrelson, and super model Rebecca Romijn Stamos.

This is a funny movie that will make you laugh louder and louder with every screen that comes across your face.

Up they go.... Weekend air show at Willow Run promises thrills

By CAROL MARSHALL
MCN Staff Writer

This weekend, some of the country's finest aerobatic pilots will take to the skies at the AirMichigan, Wayne County Airshow.

The show will be at Willow Run Airport, Saturday and Sunday and will feature the Army's Golden Knights, the U.S. Navy Blue Angels, a wing-walking act, just to name a few of the highlights.

Aerobatic pilots will also compete in the NAVplus Challenge Series, which will be judged by audience members [see story below]. The action starts at 9 a.m. and ends at 5 p.m. both days at the airport off Ecorse Road at Beck Road. Call (734) 483-4030 for details.

Golden Knights: Every show a success

Performing precision aerial demonstrations, manipulating the laws of gravity and amazing audiences worldwide are the hallmarks of the United States Army Parachute Team, the "Golden Knights."

With more than 7,900 live aerial demonstrations in 46 countries, the U.S. Army's official aerial demonstration team has been astonishing the public for almost 40 years. Known as the Army's Goodwill Ambassadors to the World, the "Knights" travel the globe performing at numerous air shows, state fairs and civic functions.

"The men and women of the team are some of the finest soldiers in the Army today," said Lt. Col. David T. Stahl, USAPT commander. "Each has excelled in the Army and has met high standards to become 'Golden Knights.'"

Based at Fort Bragg, N.C., the team traces its origin back to 1957. Seven soldiers from the Army's Special Forces received training in what was then called "delayed fall" parachuting. This technique allowed covert forces to land behind enemy lines.

"The 'Knights' come from every occupational specialty in the Army, such as truck drivers, mechanics, infantrymen, riggers, dental techni-form at air shows and outdoor events," said Stahl. "These two teams conduct more than 300 demonstration jumps each year. They actively support the Army's recruiting program by sharing their experiences in a wide variety of jobs in the Army with high school students and their families as they travel throughout the United States."

The "Golden Knights" perform annually before a combined audience of more than 12 million people.

"They are the finest soldiers and parachutists in the Army today," he said. "They are dedicated to making every show a success and display with pride the great skills that have made them 'Golden Knights.'" cians and communications specialists," he said. "As members of the finest parachute team in the world, they are committed to excellence and represent the Army around the world in public relations and recruitment efforts."

NAVplus challenge series

The world's most accomplished aerobatic pilots will push themselves and their aircraft to the very edge of excellence in pursuit of prize money and individual honors during the inaugural Northcoast Aerospace Air Show Pilot Challenge Series. The thrilling competition, organized by the Championship Air Show Pilots Association (CASPA), will take center stage at four of the largest and most respected aviation events in the United States this summer.

"The series features pilots selected by invitation only based on their superior ability, experience and showmanship," said Chuck Newcomb, CASPA spokesman and veteran airshow producer. "Fewer than 50 pilots in the world even qualify for consideration to this elite competition. We're tremendously excited because this is something totally new. It features what air show fans want to see: the world's finest pilots competing against each other, showcasing their exceptional flying skills at four of the world's top events. And the fans will determine the winner at all four events!"

The format of the Northcoast Aerospace Air Show Pilot Challenge Series is unique in that it features competition rather than individual show acts. Pilots compete in three separate flying rounds during each contest. The compulsory round requires each pilot to perform a series of predetermined, high-energy maneuvers. A freestyle round provides each pilot with four minutes to deliver an unrestricted performance of his or her choice. The challenge round pits two pilots against series at Willow Run, June 26-27, the series continues at the following places: Dayton, Ohio (United States Air & Trade Show, July 24-25), Oshkosh, Wisc. (EEA AirVenture "Oshkosh," July 28-Aug. 1, Whittman Regional Airport); and Cleveland, Ohio (Cleveland National Air Show, Sept. 4-6, Burke Lakefront Airport).

"Showcasing the CASPA-style competition at these premier events will place the series before a live audience exceeding 1 million people in its first season," Newcomb said. "That's a great start."

Pilots invited to compete in 1999 are among the finest aerobatic pilots in the world and have all competed internationally at the highest level. The include Gene Soucy, Ian Groom, Rocky Hill, Sean D. Tucker, Mike Goulian and Matt Chapman. Soucy, Groom, Hill and Tucker are established air show pilots who perform at leading aviation events across the country. Chapman and Goulian recently competed at the World Aerobatic Championships in Trencin, Slovakia, placing 4th, 8th and 12th respectively.

The pilots will compete for more than $150,000 and the Series Championship trophy. After winning a test of the competition format in Cleveland last summer, Tucker stated, "You go in thinking it's just fun, but when you get into the competition mode and you're in the finals, you realize 'this is it, this is the real deal!'"

The high-energy performance required to be competitive is a perfect match for the aggressive style of the Series sponsor, Northcoast Aerospace. The start-up company has recently introduced the VR-220C high performance pen-based navigation computer, which gives pilots a simple, rugged and high-powered positional awareness platform. The 2.2 lb. Miniature GPS computer has worked so well for pilots that it is now finding similar mapping, directional and storage applications in motor homes, RV's, commercial vehicles and passenger cars. Northcoast Aerospace Vice President Bob Rutherford says, "We're happy to support and be part of this Challenge Series. It gets people involved with the pilots. Before it was just an airplane in the air. Now there's a reason for it."

"Fan appeal is the most important thing," Newcomb concluded. "When this competition was tested last year, it became clear it's the most exciting addition to air shows that's come along in the past 20 years. Ian Groom, one of the competitors, said it best: 'It's the best being the best and competing against the best.' Wow!"

Parade winners named

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

It is never too late to pay tribute to winners who helped make the 30th annual Inkster Memorial Day Parade a success.

Longtime resident Robert Crenshaw, the Honorary Parade Marshall, presided over this year's parade. The parade theme was "Give Them the Glory and Honor."

A solemn program followed the parade and focused upon the true purpose of the annual gathering, that is, to pause and reflect upon the contributions of all and especially the local members of the military service who had fallen in battle.

The program invocation and benediction were offered by the Rev. Roscoe Belton of Middlebelt Baptist Church.

The Commemoration Ceremony, including the placement of the wreath and reading of the roll call of the fallen was conducted by members of the VFW Post 9041 and Ladies Auxiliary. Taps was played by mem-

The 30th annual Inkster Memorial Parade drew 5000 spectators to curbside and also had more than 2000 participants in the 1999 parade. bers of the Inkster High School Band, under the direction of Michael Brown.

A pleasant, but hazy sky greeted more than 200 parade participants and spectators, whose ranks were estimated at over 5000. Awards were presented to the following parade participants:

- The Most Original Float - Farrow Construction Company;
- Best Theme Float - Inkster Catholic Community;
- Best Group Appearance Non-Musical - Marracci Temple No. 13;
- Best Musical Group Appearance - Pershing High School Band.

The Memorial Day Parade committee also would like to recognize the efforts and the support received from the community, including:

- Inkster Department of Public Works;
- Inkster Auxiliary Police;
- Inkster Parks and Recreation Department;
- Wonderland Music Company;
- Jerry Carnaghi, Ed Ross, Jr., Comcast Cablevision, Rainbow Cleaners, Okie Dokie Flowers.

Ron Wolkowicz, parks and recreation director, said he and the parade committee also would like to thank all those who helped and participated in the success of the 30th annual parade.

"This parade has been conducted for the past several years due in-kind services provided by the city and the generous financial support of businesses and individuals who wish to preserve the memory of those who have the gift of their lives to preserve our freedom," Wolkowicz stressed.
